PAT CAVALIER wanted to let you know that prayers worked. Her stress test showed an area of blockage, but her heart cath showed all arteries were clear! No stent needed. Heart was beating a little slow but no abnormalities. Need to build up from iron deficiency anemia and gain some strength. It is amazing how the heart reacts when one you love dies. No wonder they say you have a broken heart. It just doesn't work the same. Keep me in your prayers, Pat
